The regular price for these two papers is $5.00 a year; this only goes for a short time.

Had Cyclonic Features.

A storm with cyclonic features passed over this city and county about 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. The dust on our streets before the rain began to fall was blinding, forcing the pedestrians to go indoors. Horses became almost unmanageable. Considerable damage was done throughout the county, especially in the Jacktown neighborhood, where trees were uprooted, fences blown down and residences and tobacco barns injured.

Good Sale of Land.

Auctioneer M. F. Kenney yesterday sold the following real estate for F. S. Kerr, assignee of Henry Bidwell, colored:

Eighteen acres of land near, Escondida, to B. J. Clay for $3,160.

Nineteen acre tract, near L. H. Reynolds' farm, to George Alexander for $1,000.

The Pridemore place, 3 acres, to Brooks Clay for $750.

House and lot in Sidville to Robert Davis for $226.

George Abshire, a tenant on the farm of Mr. John Hamilton, near Millersburg, has left for parts unknown. He sold his crop of tobacco about three weeks ago and told his wife he would go to town and settle up with his numerous creditors, but he only stopped in Millersburg long enough to have his mustache shaved off, and has not been heard from since. However his wife and three children have left since, and it is supposed they have joined him in some neighboring county. His departure is mourned by a large circle of creditors at Millersburg.

Decided Changes.

Thursday, April 6th, is the day set for Mrs. Corne Watson Baird's millinery opening. The styles in millinery have undergone a decided change since last season, and you must not fail to call and see the elegant line of millinery which Mrs. Baird has purchased for this season.

Gives Up the Ghost.

D. C. Wiggins, the manager of the Paris Grand Opera House, on yesterday afternoon, turned over the keys of the house and retired from the theatrical business. Mr. Wiggins has made many friends in this city, who regret to know he is going to return to Richmond, but who wish him unbounded success in the grocery business in his home town, which business he will embark in at once.

Mr. Wiggins' venture with the Paris Grand was not a financial success, although he has played some good attractions, but we do not believe it was altogether his management that caused the failure, and the Opera House Company should be as much to blame as Mr. Wiggins, without going into any particulars.

Circuit Court.

Circuit Court reconvened Tuesday morning. The grand jury made its final report and was discharged. Altogether they returned 293 true bills, the largest number ever returned by a Bourbon County grand jury. Of the number 270 were against the Standard Oil Company for transporting oil in a tank wagon and selling same by retail without license so to do. The penalty is a fine from $50 to $1,000 for each offense. The other indictments were for minor offenses.

The B. F. Walls will case was next called and entered into and is now in progress. The proponents are represented by Hon. C. J. Bronston, of Lexington, and Hon. E. M. Dickson, of this city; the contestants by Hon. Robt. B. Franklin and McMillan & Talbott.

FINAL REPORT OF THE GRAND JURY.

HON. ROBT. L. STOUT, Circuit Judge: May it Please Your Honor—This grand jury has done its duty under the law and your honors charge to the best of its ability. We have returned indictments where the evidence before us justified such action.

We have investigated the County Infirmary and we find that same is being economically conducted, and we think Mr. Albert Rice is entitled the confidence and high esteem of our people on account of his careful, painstaking, prudent and patient way of looking after the said institution as its superintendent or keeper.

The county jail is in good condition—no member of this jury has ever known it in better sanitary condition; it is kept in most excellent way by Jailer Judy, and considering its situation we do not think it could be better looked after.

We thank your honor for the courageous and learned charge you gave us, and believe that such charges given to grand juries at each succeeding term of this court will tend to good morals and respect for law in this community.

Charge of adultery and fornication have been preferred before us against Sid Humphrey and Anna Belle Woods and Shelby Laird and Mary Tim, and this jury thinks these matters ought to be prosecuted in the County Court and takes this means of calling the attention of that Court to the matter. Having completed our labors we now respectfully ask to be finally discharged.

DEATHS.

—Helena M. Weeks, aged 15 years, daughter of Mrs. Nellie Davis Weeks, died at the home of her grandfather, Mr. Geo. W. Davis, on High street, yesterday morning, about 10 o'clock, after several months illness.

It is sad to record the death of anyone, but surely it is doubly so when you are called to note the passing away of a bright and beautiful young flower like Helena Weeks. Just blooming into young womanhood, surrounded with lovely relations and friends by the score, with everything to live for, yet the cold and relentless reaper, Death, steps in and cuts this sweet flower down just at the time a useful life is only begun. Truly, it is hard, and there is but one to go to under such circumstance for comfort, and we commend that devoted mother, brother, grandfather, uncles and friends, to Him that gave her to us even for so short a time, for He alone can give comfort in an hour like this.

Her funeral will be held at the Second Presbyterian church, Saturday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. A. D. Tadlock, assisted by Rev. Dr. F. J. Cheek, of Louisville, will conduct the services. Pall-bearers—Jo. S. Varden, Chas. A. McMillan, Rudolph Davis, O. L. Davis, Geo. R. Davis.

He was widely known and much beloved by all denominations, having, for over fifty years, been agent for the American Bible Society. He leaves one child, Dr. John Savage, of Sioux City, Iowa. His funeral was held yesterday at Winchester and the remains taken to Lexington for interment.
